CANEA ONE helps your organization accelerate business growth through dynamic strategic planning.

CANEA ONE supports your change management initiatives and improvement projects throughout the enterprise.

CANEA ONE will help you implement key business practices in order to weed out inefficiencies and waste.

From Strategy ...

Research and studies show that the majority of organizations fail to implement their strategies. CANEA ONE helps your organization cascade and communicate strategies and objectives. Through its integrated platform it helps you keep track of key performance indicators, key resources, strategic projects, and key business processes.

To Execution!

Successful execution is about making employees involved, motivated and committed. CANEA ONE supports your organization in creating an efficient, transparent and integrated way of working. Whether it is automated workflows, best practice processes or better project management, CANEA ONE will improve your organization.

Business Excellence by CANEA ONE

CANEA ONE offers a uniqe set of capabilities for both performance, process, project and content management. All in one out-of-the-box management system platform. CANEA ONE is a solution for managing the integrated set of processes and tools your organization need to develop the strategy, translate it into operational activities and monitor and improve the effectiveness of both. CANEA ONE will unleash the full potential of your strategies, knowledge and teams.

Quite simply, more gets done – and better

CANEA ONE will help you organize work, coordinate resources and make information available when you need it. This leads to significantly reduced costs in terms of less administration, hassle and unnecessary work. CANEA ONE quite simply reduces the inefficiency that is a de facto problem when an organization grows and becomes more complex.

The pace of change has changed

The global business environment is rapidly changing. Challenges and opportunities appear and disappear in an often unpredictable manner. CANEA ONE will provide your organization with vital decision-making support and capabilities to implement rapid improvements or changes in business direction. Instead of traditional sequential planning and execution processes, CANEA ONE will help you work in a re-iterative and continuous manner, increasing your organization's ability to be successful.

The CANEA ONE Product Family

Our fully integrated product suite helps organizations run their business smoothly, adapt to change quickly, and achieve their strategic objectives – day in, day out. We do this by automating the way you work, communicate and share business information, as well as plan and organize your business objectives – ultimately creating full visibility through the enterprise.

"A goal without a plan is just a wish"

Antoine de Saint Exupéry

Make your strategies come true

CANEA Strategy enables organizations of all types and sizes to more effectively maintain organizational alignment and execute strategy more dynamically. We offer you a strategy to execution tool that takes you beyond a traditional performance management software. CANEA Strategy will help you align all your employees with the current strategic direction by communicating and linking objectives, initiatives and activities so that everyone understands.

Creates the vital connections from strategy to execution

Make sure everyone under-stands the strategy – all the time

Break down goals and activities to individual level

Provides an unbeatable overview of the way things are going

Dynamic strategy planning

The business climate as of today is more volatile and uncertain, where organizations need to evaluate their strategy continuously in order to plan and act in the best way based on the current market conditions. CANEA Strategy provides you with a systematic approach to realize your strategies and dramatically accelerate the important transformation and change processes to get everybody to work in a new way, with a new strategic focus or towards a new goal. With CANEA Strategy your organizational goals and objectives becomes reality.

Fitesa

"I am very pleased that CANEA ONE covers all our areas well. We now have occupational health and safety, quality, internal and external audits, and supplier evaluations in the same system. In other words, we handle a lot of things in a good and connected way in CANEA ONE. Being able to create modular workflows that connect to each other has been a very fun journey."

Anders Fogelberg Global Director of QA, HS&E, MS and Process Improvement Fitesa

With over 50 years of operations, the Brazilian company Fitesa, with 23 factories across South and North Americas, Europe and Asia is now one of the world's largest manufacturers of nonwoven solutions for the hygiene and healthcare sectors.

Visualize your processes so that everyone understands

CANEA Process makes it easy to map business processes and keep the process models easily accessible and up to date. The tool also helps you link documents, databases and applications with the clickable process models which creates an intuitive big picture view for all employees. CANEA Process is designed so that business users quickly can make changes to the process maps when needed to always reflect the current situation.

W. Edwards Deming

Continuous process improvements

Developing a visual representation of your internal processes creates a common understanding of the organizational activities, responsibilities and information flows among all employees. This makes work smoother but also creates a great foundation for continuous process improvement work. A prerequisite for developing best practices is to create a joint picture of the current state and the desired mode. CANEA Process makes that possible.

"Our goal was to have more transparency and overview. Now we can clearly see where we are in the process thanks to CANEA ONE. The system really facilitates the work. Everyone can access data and find what they are looking for, which makes everyday life much smoother. The cooperation with CANEA has worked very well, and the implementation has been perfect. We have had very good contact with CANEA's staff, with web-based reconciliations. And last but not least, we managed to keep both our schedule and budget."

Johnny Saxne, Project Leader MDS, Technical Preparation & Head of Environmental Coordination at Alfdex.

With operations in Sweden, USA and China, Alfdex is the world's leading supplier of highly effective solutions for cleaning crankcase gases from diesel engines. As a subcontractor to the heavy-duty automotive industry, Alfdex has to meet high standards, including IATF and ISO.

You will easily find the information you need – every time

Business information and documents like policies, instructions, agreements and other knowledge are vital for business operations. Yet, many organizations have documents stored all over the place – on computers, network drives, e-mail and in various sharing sites. CANEA Document helps organizations find, share and secure all types of documents and information from a lifecycle perspective. The system supports all steps from creating the document to reviewing, approving, publishing, changing and archiving.

| The information you need is available just one click away | Manage information according to applicable standards such as ISO 9001 | Search and find information based on what you need - not where it is saved | Full lifecycle support for all business critical information |

Make sure regulations and standards are met

CANEA Document is the solution for managing business information in global, multilingual and highly regulated industries. Capabilities like more advanced audit trails, version comparison, event logging, permission control, electronic signatures and read receipt logging are some of the required functionalities when managing handbooks, manuals and similar in a controlled way. CANEA Document is the next generation enterprise information management system ensuring right information to the right person at the right time.

"Nearly a year ago, we introduced CANEA ONE as our Distributor Support Portal, aiming to streamline processes, enhance document accessibility, and centralize the handling of quality deviations and warranty claims. Since then, we have experienced significant improvements, including a reduction in warranty processing time by over 50%, achieving end-to-end transparency throughout the process, eliminating the need for cross-system data searches, and benefiting from high data quality for targeted analyses aimed at product enhancements."
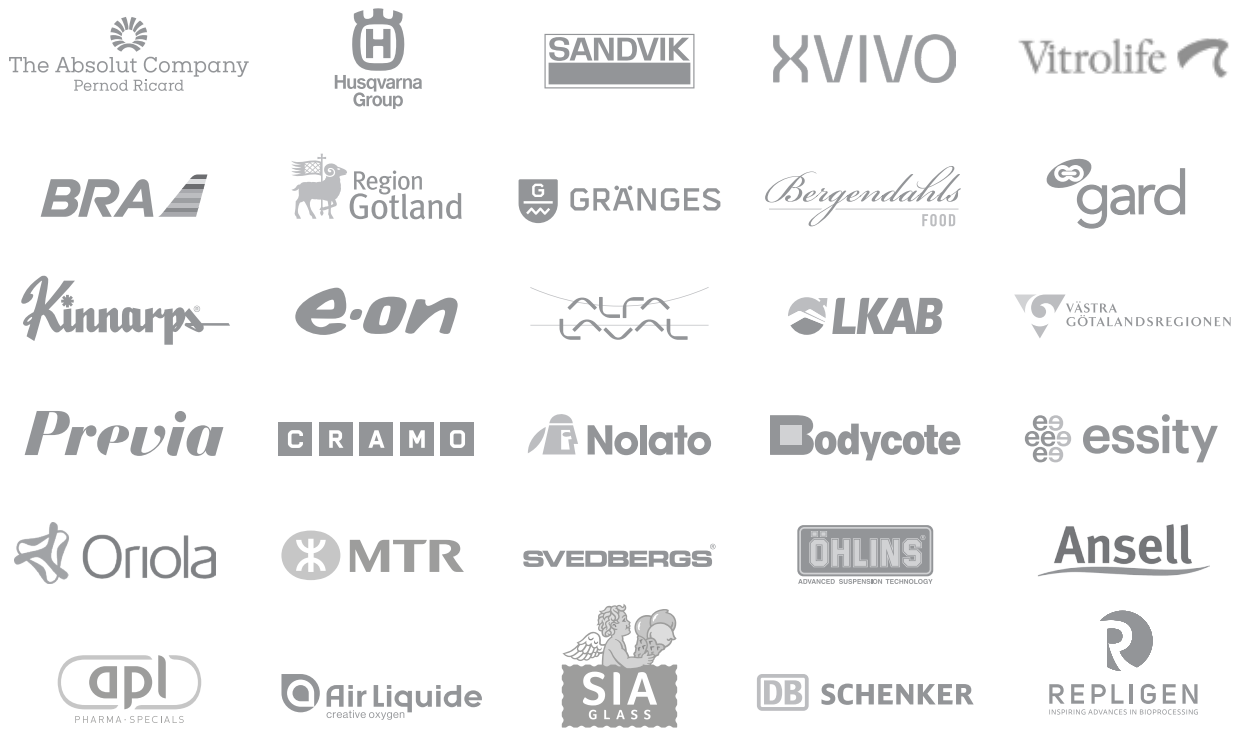

Olaf Witt, Business Engineer at Bucher Municipal AG

Bucher Municipal, a division of Bucher Industries, has 19 production sites and 180+ Customer Service Centers, spread across five continents, making them the world leading provider of specialty vehicles for cleaning and clearing. Being able to support their distributors efficiently is crucial in a global environment.
